Elegance, pure & simple.

Metrix New Zealand is a leading importer and distributor of premium European bathroom ware.

A singular focus on representing specialist manufacturers, who share their commitment to inspirational bathroom spaces, led Metrix to become the exclusive agency for a portfolio of high-quality, sought-after brands.

Established in 1988, the company gained an industry-wide reputation for its relentless and visionary pursuit of innovation in bathroom design. This attracted the attention of New Zealand Plumbers Merchants, who acquired it in 2007.

For an extensive range of cutting-edge products that deliver excellence in technology, performance, sustainability and design, look no further than Metrix.

Luv

Design: Cecilie Manz

Duravit's Luv series, designed by Cecilie Manz, combines Nordic minimalism with timeless elegance. Luv is defined by precise, clear and fine forms and edges, a new design language that, both minimalist and elegant, can be interpreted in a highly individual manner.

Starck 1

Design: Philippe Starck

Philippe Starck and Duravit have returned to the beginnings of hygiene, body care and wellness in addition to the evolution of the bathroom. A toilet, bathtub and washbasin that are unmistakable but completely reinterpreted descendants of their historic predecessors – the bucket, tub and washbowl.

Starck 2

Design: Philippe Starck

A true Starck, but less elaborate, was the inspiration behind the second Duravit-Philippe Starck collaboration. A range of ceramics that is the ultimate successor to its famous predecessor. Starck 2 is also inspired by the origins of bathroom design and the ceramic forms embody the flowing movement of water.

Cape Cod

Design: Philippe Starck

Cape Cod, located in New England on the coast of the United States, features an unforgettable flair. The region is known for its beaches stretching for miles, crystal clear water and untamed nature. It is the inspiration for Cape Cod, the bathroom series by Philippe Starck and Duravit.

Architec

Design: Frank Huster

The basic architectural elements – the circle and the square – were the inspiration behind the Architec basin range and ideal for a wide variety of applications. The unusual diagonal cut of the Architec washbasin allows a generous storage surface and more space in a smaller area.

Duravit C.1

Design: Kurt Merki Jr.

The new C.1 faucet series designed by Kurt Merki Jr. is perfectly proportioned in terms of look and feel and assumes a natural composition with the washbasin and bathtub. With their understated simplicity, they have a defining influence on the bathroom. C.1 matches all modern, architectural and linear bathroom series.

Starck T

Design: Philippe Starck

The new accessory line, Starck T combines functional rigour with organic forms. It is reminiscent of the branching shape of a tree, which forms a recurring iconic signature. Made of the highest quality materials and fabricated for longevity and timelessness, Starck T perfectly rounds off contemporary bathroom furnishings.

For over 25 years, Valsir has been Italy's largest manufacturer of in-wall cisterns and push plates. The company has achieved this position through investment in advanced material and production technologies, and sustainable manufacturing processes. Considerable emphasis has been placed on designing a range of push plate options to suit all situations. Technological innovation, attention to detail and constant quality control are the cornerstones that have always driven the design and production of Valsir in-wall cisterns.

Cristina

Cristina Rubinetterie, a premium Italian bathroom fitting and fixtures company, was founded in 1949 in Gozzano on Lake Orta. Its products for bathroom, kitchen wellness interiors and outdoor areas are designed to ensure functionality and duration, seamlessly blending with the aesthetics of contemporary interior projects. Manufactured exclusively in Italy, Cristina uses superior materials and advanced technological processes with meticulous attention to detail.

Italy

Italy

The Italy range combines industrial production and artisan experience, representing the pinnacle of excellence being Made in Italy. The design is a re-proposition of modernity with the classic forms of the 1920s, characterised by the purity of shapes with the union of surface elements, to achieve a unique and timeless style.

SX

Design: Makio Hasuike

The materiality of the cement, combined with 316 stainless steel, expresses a harmonious contrast in line with the essential aesthetics of the series: a combination of industrial production and craftsmanship, which does not sacrifice the utmost attention to detail.

Profilo

Design: Giampiero Castagnoli

Thanks to its versatility, Profilo is suitable for any type of setting, meeting the expectations of those who choose high-quality Italian products with a fresh and modern appeal.

Londra

Londra boasts an elegant look, thanks to a clever interplay of shapes, balanced volumes, refined details and a combination of materials. The series draws from the harmony of the past and reinvents it with modern accents.

Dornbracht

Clear, pure flowing water is the point of departure of Dornbracht's activities and the focal point of their product design work. All fittings and accessories place a clear and unmistakable emphasis on function. Materials and finishes are of the highest quality, and their pioneering design is constantly being refined. Great design, primarily by Sieger Design, has been central to the company's philosophy for many years. Dornbracht products are an expression of a distinctive bathroom culture from an acknowledged world leader in tapware.

Lissé

Lissé

Design: Sieger Design

Lissé is full of exciting contrasts with an authentic quality that sets the tone in the bathroom – an open invitation to simply and easily enhance the interior design and treat yourself to something special: a “genuine Dornbracht”.
